covered drinking Area March 2018

proposed covered drinking shelter at the rear of The Woolpack, 19 Westgate, Almondbury, Huddersfield. HD5 8XF – for the E.I.Group PLC

The Woolpack is a long established public house in the heart of the town of Almondbury

The Woolpack is a popular drinking house in the centre of Almondbury at present the premises has a beer garden at the rear of the pub, which is a popular area during the fine weather but has no covered area as such for inclement weather

The proposal is to constructed a timber framed covered area which would provide shelter for the customers already using the beer garden, the construction would be from sustainable timbers and the use of timber shingles as a roof covering, providing a natural finish to the beer garden

Although positioned on the rear elevation the structure would not be attached to the main building which we understand is a Grade 2 listed building, the timber framed canopy would be supported on timber support legs constructed in an in-ground concrete foundation.

External ground levels are maintained to provide full access

View towards the rear of the Woolpack to the area where the canopy is to be sited
