These houses are not within the keeping of this area I believe this a is conservation area , these are nothing like other properties down this road . Also the roads can't take any more traffic and parked cars , its already a nightmare with parked cars constantly blocking the road. It's highly congested every day . Also there is a dyke which goes down under the road of Lowgate which collapsed a few years ago and houses were flooded so building more houses will put more pressure on this and building work could cause more problems of it collapsing again. Also they have chopped down trees that were well established which will have an effect for the birds/wildlife and these plans don't show for them being replaced so so much for the environment. People just seem to be able to do what they want these days .
