1.George Street is a very busy part of Kirkburton, and always congested. There are always cars parked there and buses often have difficulty in getting through. The shops there are always busy and as a pedestrian it is often difficult to cross the road at this point. Access to George Street from Low Town and Low Gate is already difficult as there is a bend at this point in the road. Three extra houses, are bound to increase traffic and add to congestion and increase risks of accidents. 2.The site here is steep and drops down below George street.It is possible that building and excavations could undermine the road at a dangerous bend. 3. This is a small piece of land in a conservation area. These houses are out of keeping with the surrounding area, and other houses.
