The proposed erection of another dwelling, would be detrimental to properties to the rear of said dwelling. It will block light into our garden, and the bedroom window would overlook our garden, infringing on the privacy that we have enjoyed since moving into our property. The privacy that we have had up to now enjoyed, was a key reason we moved from a busy city location, to a village location. The extension that the builders have already erected does not fit in with the existing properties surrounding it, due to the flat roof and render being used. Parking is already overcrowded on that street, and we feel that it will cause further problems exiting the thoroughfare to the side of the property.
