| I am fairly new to the Huddersfield area. A family member of mine attends this setting. It is a perfect location for a childminder, directly opposite the local school, what a fantastic transition for those children. The street where it is based, it seems quiet and I have always managed to pass through and parking spaces are always available along the road. I often see parents walking to and from which means it is handy for them as it must be on their doorstep. I can't say I have noticed many other childcare settings within this area. There is a lack of this provision as it is. | |
