I object to the reinstating of the cross on the grass verge. I would like to see the cross reinstated onto its original area, the junction of Wyke Lane, Cross Street and Sykes lane. where it has stood as a landmark for 300 years, as seen on many photographs and in paintings. This is part of the village history and its heritage. HGV vehicles should not be using this road. As it is a Grade II listed stone monument, due diligence and care should be considered and any highway signs put in place, It is up to the council with the support of the public to preserve and maintain listed monuments, rather than remove and reinstate them. The council should be empathetic to community history and heritage and strive to maintain local culture and architecture.
