Details of the pre-application advice received:

It is often difficult to provide definitive advice at pre-application stage in terms of whether the Certificate of Lawfulness will be granted as the application will be considered based on the precise details submitted, with the burden of proof firmly on you as the applicant to prove beyond reasonable doubt that proposed use would not be any materially different to uses with C3 class. The fee for a Certificate of Lawfulness is £86.

However, based on some of the certificates of lawful uses we have granted for similar development and the information you submitted I would advise that you apply for a certificate. Thorough consideration on whether it will be granted would be given during the course of the application.

Is the proposed operation or use: Permanent Temporary

Why do you consider that a Lawful Development Certificate should be granted for this proposal?

To allow me to bring about benefit to the community and society generally. This home is to enrich the lives of people who otherwise lead a life that isn't as fulfilling and as fruitful as well as possibly neglectful.

With a system set where there is care for the: safety, personal enjoyment and achievement, making positive contributions and achieving economic well being in peoples lives who wouldn't have had otherwise possible or at least minimal.

This property will not change structurally, and the bedrooms will be used as they originally were, as will the lounge and every other room of its original intent. The building is a detached building so there will be no disturbance to the neighbours.

7. Grounds for Application

There is a need having looked at the market positioning statement in the Kirklees area to have this type of service as the number of people who are young and have no service in Kirklees have to go out which distances them from their local community. The aim is to bring back these people to their community. I will personally be working to help drive the business to work closely with the council in bringing about the best possible outcomes for the area.
