Today we have found out that the developer has, on the last day, appealed the first rejected plan.

This developer is showing time and time again he has not listened to nor taken into consideration what is good for Heckmondwike and the surrounding area, and is interested only in money he can make from an area of land he has essentially held to ransom for years.

There have been objections in their hundreds to the two plans combined, supporting evidence for reasons these plans simply cannot go ahead. Yet here we are, again.

Please do not let this man have such a devastatingly negative effect on so many peoples lives.

Not only that but the actions being taken are proving to be so underhand but you cannot help but question how much of the intended plan will actually be stuck to, should either application be approved.

Please do the right thing for Heckmondwike and it's people, and not for a business man interested solely in lining his own pocket.
