Subject: Public Consultation for railway cutting

Hi

I just want to register my frustration at the way the developer has gone about arranging the public consultation.

I felt it was a fair proposal for the planning committee to request the public consultation and I was pleased at least that we would get a chance to discuss the issues with the developer, which is the least he could do for us, the local residents.

To find out that this meeting has been arranged on the 2nd Friday before Christmas at a most inconvenient time of 3pm has proven to me that the developer has no interest in a reasonable discussion about the impact this development would have on our local area, and has shown complete disregard or respect for us as a collective, time and time again.

My personal circumstances at the moment (I) means that ordinarily I would be free at that time, however we have plans that afternoon to visit family and friends with our baby son to see them before Christmas. My partner works full time so it's impossible for him to take time off so close to Christmas and he shouldn't have to use more holidays for for such an event that could have easily been arranged for a more convenient time to allow the maximum number of people to attend.

I have no idea how many people can attend or what will be discussed at the meeting on Friday but I ask you and the planning committee to take the circumstances into consideration at the planning meeting in January when making a decision about this flawed development.

I guess Scrooge really does exist!

Thank you
