Harveys is what used to be The White Hart Inn, an historic public house on a principal road into Holmfirth. This building deserves to be protected against damage to its original façade. The proposed glazed balcony will detract from the stylish frontage of the premises. The building is in sight of the oldest part of Holmfirth, the view from the centre and up toward Cliff. As such the proposed change will not be in keeping with this classic view nor in keeping with the Conservation Area at large.
