I would like consideration of its installation and its impact on the surroundings. My comments are the following: - I have a concern about the possible industrial look of the lift system. Heavy tubular bars etc which may not be in keeping with the look of the street from the pavement. I have spoken to the supplier (Wessex Lifts) and they will not provide me with an indication of the materials used and finish. No indication of finish is provided on the on the plans. My request would be that the finish of parts used in the lift systems construction to be in keeping from the roadside. I am concerned about the pavement level safety fencing having an industrial steel look found at a factory - The lift system be parked in the lower position when not in use - Is there an alternative product that could be considered. E.g. Niche Lifts do a inclined stair lift that would have minimal impact for installation and visually superior compared the the lift system offered by Wessex Lifts. Additionally there may be a possible cost saving for the project as minimal structural work would be required to implement installation. I would like to say that I have no objection to a lift system being installed as the owner obviously requires it to assist mobility. I would hope that when the application is reviewed its visual impact be considered for the neighbours, it will be a permanent feature of the property for many years
