The Shears is a historically significant building for the area & should not be allowed to be demolished. I can empathise with the owners if it is no longer commercially viable but surely the building can be saved as a landmark of the area. Even if it has to be converted into a residential dwelling incorporated into the plans with the other new builds on the site surely it does not have to be demolished. A good example is the former Albion pub down knowler Hill Liversedge, an eighteenth century grade 2 listed building that is now a private residence but has tastefully been refurbished & as such the building is preserved. The Shears is much more significant to the history of Liversedge & the Luddites & should be protected as a building.
