I feel this is an historical building with lots of local history. To demolish this would be detrimental to liversedge and local schools who have been brought up with the history of the luddites and it's connections to local buildings .I understand the building can not be listed due to the many changes, but I feel that this building should be kept and maybe changed into alternative dwellings but not demolished. Or at least a designated area with key features from the old house as an historical area on that site .Like the whale bones in robbertown .
