I would like to express my sincere and deep objection to this planning application! This building should be protected as one of the oldest buildings in the area and played a major part in the Luddite uprising over 200 years ago. The building is of great historical importance, and should remain where it has stood for hundreds of years. We teach our children the history of the area, and several generations have grown up Re-telling the story of their heritage in this area. Once it's gone - it can never be seen again. There are plenty of brownfield sites in desperate need of redevelopment where new houses could be built. We really DO NOT NEED to demolish such an attractive historic and valuable building to the history of this area.
