There is no parking. There are double yellow lines on wakefield road therefore it is possible that people visiting will park in neighbouring roads such as old bank road and leave residents no where to park. There is also a potential that people will park in the tesco express which is small and busy most of the time. There are also some bungalows on old bank road which are opposite the newsagents if people are parking outside their homes there is no where for their carers or potentially ambulances to park. It will also increase traffic and this road gets congested at rush hour times. I am also concerned that large numbers of people congregating may lead to some anti social behaviour in the area. It is a main road and people spilling out onto the road will also cause road safety issues
