I think this should be welcomed as such a facility as in other areas do no harm but more over have helped local areas improve on social action and spirituality. There is tremendous work taking place in nearby communities and faith based organisations during the current crisis and they really show what positive social impact a prayer facility can bring to the area. A prayer facility should be encouraged for spiritual and reflective purposes to serve communities and counter other issues such as mental health, isolation and serving personal needs of the faith based residents. I cannot see any problems but many benefits!! No material planning problems in my in terms of environment, landscape, safety etc. These would only be considered should there be SEVERE detrimental effect under the planning grounds.
