As a neighbour, I object to the application. 1). The proposal to (partly) demolish the dry stone wall would spoil and destroy the character of what is a conservation area. The dry stone walls are a unique feature of Yorkshire villages and should be preserved. A precedent should not be set with the demolition of these features for personal gain. 2). Being an adjacent neighbour, the use of the garden as a parking space would cause further problems and disruption. Much of the view from the front window of the property looks out across the garden of no.22 towards the village, A small car would partially block this view but a larger car and especially a van would entirely block the view, and crucially block out light. Having a vehicle parked only a few feet from the main front window of my property is something I strongly oppose as it would also cause further issues of engine noise, privacy, disturbance and exhaust fumes. 3). Creating off-road parking for one car would create more problems than it solves. The road is narrow and cars already use the other side of road to park. Creating an opening with the demolition of the dry stone wall would mean space would have to be left for manoeuvring into the property and therefore losing at least one on-street parking space.
