This is a beautiful piece of countryside, it has nature walks and a brings a place for people to walk away from their busy hectics lives and be free. People have fought for year to not have building built on this land as it is precious to them. Their will be no land left for people to walk away from a built up area if we do not keep some sacred. This area is full of nature and wildlife that has become happy and settled, this can not be found overnight, it must take time and develop. The trees that are here help keep the air cleaning and our children's future brighter. I appreciate you can plant new trees but they will not be developed and help like trees that have stood there for years. This site is a beautiful landscape and putting a housing estate on would be a tragedy.
