The A653 is an extremely busy road and quite often used as a race track for drivers due to being straight, this can be at day and night and is so noisy causing me to not sleep some nights even with the windows closed. Traffic is constant all the time and if we're adding more houses it will increase even further causing pollution, further noise and congestion in the whole area as its bad enough already!!! With regards to an industrial area, this will bring more trucks/heavy goods on this road again causing further noise and pollution. Its bad enough when this road is used as a redirection between the m62 &amp; m1 south but if this is going to be permanent good help us!!!!
