

Re-Planning Application. 2020/92331

Dear Sir,

There are many reasons why this development should not go ahead.

The increase in traffic on heeds Road will be unbearable for the people who live on the road, ask anyone who lives here now, and congestion will be 100% worse going to and from heeds. There is always standing traffic at busy times and this is bound to get worse with the added problem of pollution putting peoples health at risk.

The loss of green space which is home to many varieties of birds and wildlife is also used by walkers and this has increased a great deal during Covid 19 as a welcome release from traffic on our doorstep. All the footpaths will be gone plus all the peace this area brings.

Has anyone taken into account the mine workings that took place under these fields? How will that affect buildings.

There is also a spring running down these fields into a stream at the bottom, what problems might that cause.

We could also see the beautiful woods disappear. They have been there many years but unless a very large area is left round the trees they would be starved of water and die. The developers and local council will not care about that but a lot of people do care.

There is also the loss of farmland, when we have more people in our country to feed, does anyone care about that and the farmers who have farmed these fields will lose their livelihoods. What happens when these and many others are concreted over.
