The loss of agricultural land with all the wildlife it also supports is abhorrent especially in the current climate (war/brexit) where food security for the country is essential. The associated loss of the birds it supports in a time where many species are declining to extinction is not acceptable ! The impact on irreplaceable ancient woodlands and the wildlife therein is outrageous - once these places are lost they are lost forever. We need to preserve the few green spaces we have left , the local population will suffer with years of construction, pollution, congestion and the loss of the green space will affect all future generations.
