I am concerned that the assessment of this land does not reflect the variety of species which live there and therefore highlight the likely loss of several protected species. I feel that this land, which has a long agricultural history should be protected as a green space area to conserve wildlife and the heritage of this area.

I am incredibly worried about the impact on local residents should this development go ahead. Access to nature/green space is well documented as being beneficial for both mental and physical health conditions and to maintain a person's quality of life. People have chosen to reside in this area to have access to these benefits, which they may now be denied. This will very likely have a negative impact on their health and well-being causing decreased quality of life and add pressure to already stretched health and social services. Not to mention the losses which will be forced upon the residents of the houses which are marked to be demolished, which for many will be hard to overcome and very much cause reduced quality of life.

Please reconsider this development.
