In light of the recent Cop27 summit, where damage to the planet has come under even more intense scrutiny, the only way to describe this plan is environmental vandalism on a preposterous scale. The sheer scale of destruction, however you measure fresh air, open space, visual aesthetics, will last forever on those who vote this through and perform the actual work. How is this allowed on green space between Kirklees and Wakefield? Why are brown field sites in the Heavy Woollen district allowed to become perpetual eyesores whilst this degradation of a resource occurs. Who has the right to further fence in residents of North Kirklees with these faceless estates generating vast amounts of runoff and thousands more car journeys along Leeds Road or to the bottom of Soothill Lane? This blight is totally unnecessary if derelict areas were converted into residential zones. It will destroy the whole area for generations to come and condemn current residents who have the misfortune to live anywhere near it to a future of endless noise, pollution, litter and excessive runoff. Totally undemocratic and abhorrent!
