I further object re 2020/60/92350/E

I am a PhD Environmental Scientist with a long reputation in forestry and woodland ecology, formerly funded by the Scottish Government and Forestry and Land Scotland, with forest research personally endorsed by Forestry Commission senior executives.

1. This needs to be brought before the Strategic Planning Committee.
2. Dum and Dogloitch Ancient Woodlands are not appropriate sites to offset damage caused by the development.
3. The 106 agreements have revealed that the Church Commissioners intend to offset damage caused by the developments by enhancing or creating new habitats in Dum and Dogloitch Wood – both are established ecosystems and unique, irreplaceable habitats. The Church Commissioners' Agents decimated two 120+ year old oak trees and felled a suspected bat roost last time they decided to 'improve' Dum Wood!
