Conservation of the natural environment, The enviromental assesment by Brooks Ecological states residual impacts cannot be mitigated! Other than a promise in the 106(S106) agreements to ofset damage if this scheme was to proceed that has already been stated as it cannot be mitigated. I have seen the effects of water shortage this summer in Dum Wood with foliage die back due to lack of rainfall & run off, clearly visible from Heybeck Lane. The effect of impervious surfaces with surface drainage to that extent, probably 90%, would permanantly effect the hydrology of the woods to an unsustainable level in a relatively short period, causing desertificationin of fertile woodland. There is little referance in the plans to provide, replace or encourage natural wildlife habitats other than five piles of dead wood indicated on a site plan in Brooks ecological Assesment. The whole area will be increasingly polluted with new residents vehicles and emmissions from their prorerty also in very close proximity to wildlife & woodlands.
