The planning serves to dramatically increase the number of households that would be required to use the Heybeck Lane and would add substantially to the traffic on this road (which has only a very narrow, single sided footpath in some areas). This will put increased pressure at both the local junction and the opposite direction easterly through a narrow 20mph zone passing the local primary school. Heybeck Lane, along with Baghill Road are already blighted by dangerous speeding drivers, more traffic on these local roads should not be encouraged to this level. The loss of green field habitat and open space would be great disappointment to the local residents and environment in general as the country needs to promote green breathing spaces for peoples mental health, the environment and wildlife. The present dwellings on Heybeck lane are typically one deep lining the road, adding such a large number of houses of this density is not in keeping with the area and serves to strangle the region.
