The destruction of what is a site of natural beauty will be devastating on the community and the existing residents, both in terms of the environment with the loss of what is already diminishing outdoor space used by many for recreational purposes, but also with the increase in noise, traffic, pollution and the impact to the natural wildlife. There is already a new development being built in this and surrounding areas. The council should take a step back to assess the impact that those developments have on the community, environment and infrastructure, before making any decisions to increase development in this area.
