The barn in question is The plans show a new window to the rear of the barn. At present the barn has an opening at the rear which is boarded up from the inside and is also in a different position to that shown on the plan. and during the planning application process we were refused permission to have in the extension because We believe the same consideration should be shown for this application, for the same reasons. The plans shown here are incorrect in that as stated above the plans are dated 2006. than is shown on the plan, and should be considered. The plans are also incorrect in that the barn already has 3 velux type roof windows installed, these have been present for some years, and are not shown on the existing or proposed plans. Also as a general comment, already thought this building was occupied because we have heard music and voices at some times in the evenings and the lights are on and the roof windows open. The comments in the plan are very general, ie ' building work reasonably necessary for the conversion', which if passed in this way could easily mean having windows installed to the
