I own an apartment at Quarry Bank Mills and am concerned about this planning application because of the [redacted] nesting on the chimney. In the UK, [redacted] have been given full legal protection under the Wildlife & Countryside Act 1981. As a Schedule 1 species, [redacted] are also protected from intentional or reckless disturbance at their nest sites. Unless there is any evidence of significant structural damage to the chimney caused by birds, the application should be rejected as it will be to the detriment of the birds. [redacted] the pigeon population at the mill cause considerably more damage to the building
