I object to the proposed development for the following reasons: firstly, there have been no plans issued for drainage, which could cause localised flooding and consequent damage. Secondly, the land in question houses local wildlife and could act as a greenspace for the area if properly managed. The surrounding roads and traffic would also be effected - and the village is notoriously congested as is. Also, would the infrastructure of the surrounding area (ie. schools and medical facilities) support the hypothetical residents of such a development?
