I feel with the potential of an extra 95 cars minimum using the road will have serious consequences on the area. There is already double parking on each side of the road making it one way traffic only, there is already a danger when pulling out of crossley lane as there is little visibility up Northorpe Lane and i feel this could be a potential danger to life and definitely more chance of car accidents happening. Also this will directly effect Crossley Lane which is a one way road in most parts, a road that many pedestrians use without a footpath and already i feel a dangerous road as there is no traffic calming and most people speed when using the Lane, that also applies to Northorpe Lane, i do not feel this is the right area to add additional housing to it would ruin the character of the area and have a serious impact on the highway safety.
