I have an objection to the plans that have been submitted, the objection is regarding the erection of single storey front. The property will be completely different to the rest of the houses in the street - all houses have a bay window at the front and this property will not. My main objection is that if this extension is done then sunlight/daylight will be restricted into our front room, also privacy will be an issue as the neighbours front window will be looking into our front room and our view will be their extension. In the future if we decided to sell our home, I believe my home value will be affected negatively as the frontage will be uneven and odd looking semi-detached house. Please kindly consider my objection and await your comments.
