My daughter currently attends Ravenshall School and there is already a high volume of traffic during during drop off and pick up times, with additional congestion with vehicles parking on side streets and on junction corners.

The proposal to use the road adjacent to the school is both impractical and ill thought out. The children attending the school have very acute needs and to have heavy traffic driving past the school all day will to be disruptive to the school and the children. Access is already an issue as due to the needs of the pupils, many minibuses are at the school during pick up / drop off times further adding to traffic.

Additionally, no doubt there will be mud left on the roads by the construction traffic which will make the use of the access road to the school unpleasant for vehicles and the pupils.

The developers should consider alternative access routes, I understand the permanent access route is near the junction with Forge Lane. Why is this not being used from the start, if they are having problems with the landowners then surely it is for them to resolve and should not be a planning consideration.
