I would like to offer my support to the planning application for a new Lidl store at Salendine Nook.

As a resident in this area, specifically the top side of Lindley, we have experienced exponential growth in housing in the last few years with no infrastructure whatsoever to support it. We are desperately in need of more shops, health services, school places, bus services, activities for young people etc etc with no evidence of anything at all. We were advised that the companies building these housing estates would have to recompense the council but other than some additional walkways/lighting we haven't seen anything at all.

To support the ever expanding community in this area, with a poor bus service to many of the new estates and to reduce car pollution, I believe it is vital we have better access to nearby good value supermarkets such as Lidl.

I currently shop at Lidl at Outcote Bank but the access to this store is grossly inadequate and does not support a growth in customer numbers.

I wholeheartedly support a new store within walking distance of my home.
