Sir,

I write to support the Lidl planning application to build a store on the site at Salendine Nook.

Living at Mount I am aware of the total lack of infrastructure to support all the new housing in this area, including the lack of supermarkets, which leads me to conclude that the council would be remiss in their duty of care to residents if they fail to allow this application and instead add more housing, which I understand the land is labelled to hold, instead.

With the additional housing another supermarket would not be detrimental to the trade Sainsbury's enjoy, which is now busier than ever.

I hope that the council will take this to committee on Wednesday 14th December and pass it, the site has been empty long enough, most residents I speak to want a supermarket they do not want more housing. Please make a decision soon.
