effect on living conditions - We are not objecting to the new development, my concern regarding the build it that my house faces the site directly and the proposed new development and access road to the new site (as currently shown on the draft plans) face our large barn door/windows. Whilst we feel the vehicles entering wouldn't cause much disturbance, we are very concerned the vehicles leaving the development definitely will. This will result in headlights shining right through our home every time a vehicle leaves the sit. This room is our family room/dining room and where I work from home/ boys study etc. We would ask if this could be looked at to see alternative access to the new development can be made as discussed and following my email.
