I can not understand why Kirklees council would object to this application (which I believe they have done so in the past), not only have so much time & money been spent on the premises of Devour but it has vastly improved the surrounding area without having a detrimental impact on local residents, (if anything, I guess it has helped to increase the value of local properties, due to the tasteful improvements made by Devour) ? If any of the people responsible for making final decision on this application were to actually go to Devour and experience first hand, prior to making their decision, I am sure they would look at this application favourably. The past 2/3 years have been 'difficult & challenging' for many businesses, especially in the hospitality industry (and still are) so surely local council should be there to help and support local businesses in any way possible ? As I have mentioned earlier, please go to Devour BEFORE, making your decision. Thanks
