I am concerned about the access to the car park at a junction that is already heavily congested. The entrance is likely to lead to more cars queuing up Leeds Road from the traffic lights as they wait to turn into the car park resulting in further congestion to Leeds Road and A62. Similarly if that is also the route for deliveries this will cause further congestion especially at peak times potentially causing difficulties in lorries accessing the car park due to other Road users and causing further congestion on Leeds Road/A62. Please rethink entrance/exit to car park. Perhaps a separate entrance/exit on opposite sides of the site?
