| This is exactly the well thought out plan for housing that our area needs. The unfortunate fact is that we're losing greenbelt and valuable agricultural land to housing at an astounding rate. Those houses are built without thought of their running costs or how they contribute to society. These planned eco houses should be built and used as an example to others of the standards which should be reached. We have to lose land to housing, there's no choice about it and far better that this non productive land should be used and that habitat is recreated there. I hope that a planning condition will be incorporated which will demand that all residents are from Scholes in perpetuity. No doubt you could find 50 families needing these properties, within one mile. |    |
