| Turning this building into housing will take away further history from the area. Currently the building is used to support local residents through dancing and acting, with much talent coming through the doors. The cafe is a prime location for people to meet throughout the day or when classes are on. The building itself has so much history as a dancing house dating right back. 1 bedroom apartments are not what is beneficial to the area - a place where young children can grow and develop is. | |
