| The dancing house is a locally owned business which has been lovingly built by Hannah and Matt, both of whom grew up in the area. They've created a business which makes great use of an old building and brings immense cultural and recreational value to the area. The dancing house is a meeting place for local families where they can get good quality and healthy food while socialising. It is also a place where local children can learn to dance where older people can practice yoga. In short, the closure of the dancing house would be a big loss to the area. In addition, turning the old mill into flats would be a poor choice. As with many flats of this sort, it is likely that maintenance would be of low importance to the owners and this old building would not relieve the upkeep it requires. |     |
