I strongly object to the change of use Of The Woolpack Country Inn , I believe with the right management it could be a very viable business but will need marketing . The place has been left to fall into a state of disrepair . It needs proper opening hours and decent food and people will support it , the beer garden would have been a perfect place to bring in revenue this summer even if it had only been simple food a money maker missed . The Woolpack has always been there has long has i remember , also its the last public amenity that Whitley has . Needs some vision Booze N snooze nights to make use of accommadation , afternoon teas , wedding receptions . I know it has been a hard few years for all businesses but people wont support when the are been served poor food and drinks and erratic opening hours . Also housing would cause more cars so parking problems on an already congested area
