Having moved to Liversedge to be more in the countryside and the main rationale for buying in the area was because of the location, views and zen lifestyle I am highly concerned what this development with bring. The conservation of the natural environment, effect on trees and the landscape design, is not at all sustainable and does not go towards net zero plans. The appearance and layout effect on the character of this area will be huge. I will no longer look out to fields, but instead a building site for however long, constant dust, noise and mess and then when they are finally finished...houses where fields used to be. The impact on noise, disturbance and odour will be extensive, as will the impact on highway safety and traffic. The roads are bad enough as it is. Getting out from a side street onto Halifax Road is hell and the quality of roads are poor - pot holes everywhere. The effect on living conditions - for example the effect on sunlight and daylight, privacy of neighbours and being overlooked effect on neighbouring properties what the building or development will look like are also huge considerations. I would not have bought this house having know the view and the zen lifestyle could be compromised. There's nothing better than walking down to the greenway listening to the birds, observing wildlife and being surrounded by fields. This is currently a lovely place to live and contributes to living a net zero economy and reaching those targets. This cannot be said if this development is allowed to go ahead. Please accept this as my objection to the plans.
