I bought a house on darley road for the fact of the access and it wasn't a through road. With having a young family it puts my mind at ease that they can play out and not be in danger of cars flying up and down the road. If the planning goes ahead darley road won't be able to manage the volume of traffic on it! Kids won't be able to be kids and play out on the street. The area is full of family's and kids. On a evening the street is full of parked cars and after everyone is home from work the traffic on the road is very low which makes it safe for kids to play and cross the roads safely if the planning goes ahead the street will be littered with vehicles at all hours which in time will end up in there being a accident with no doubt a child involved! The money I've spent buying and doing up a house in a lovely area were kids can be kids and play out on there street with all there mates as I use to when I was growing up will be all wasted if the planning goes ahead!!
