As a business owner that attracts other businesses into the local area, I am asked on a weekly basis for recommendations of places to stay. At present, I struggle to give many recommendations, because any high quality, fairly-priced accommodation is usually booked up months/weeks in advance. A Place In the Pennines will be the perfect solution, meaning that business people can stay in the village (meaning more spending in the local shops, cafes etc). The lodges are being built to an incredible standard and encourage local tourism, walking, biking and greater attendance at events throughout the year such as Jazz Festival and Moonraking. People pass on a daily basis and comment about how they want to stay here or invite friends who live further afield, thus promoting Marsden as a destination. The village and its shops/cafes need support, and this venture will do just that.
