Its crazy to think that KMC would even consider approval of this application as it stands. With only two possible routes from the quarry to crow edge taking you via either the Car Hill or Sovereign crossroads then the only option they can have is to reject the application in its current form. The two crossroads are well known for the accidents that happen there on a monthly if not weekly basis and the numerous near misses on a daily basis. Its not scaremongering to say that having this many heavy and slow large wagons adding to the huge problem will only mean the loss of life at some point. If KMC cannot accept that this application is foolish and dismiss it then loss of peoples lives will lay firmly at their door. Use common sense please and accept all the objections as genuine concern for health and safety. Reject the application.
