Barnsley road is already a very busy road with 40mph restriction which no-one sticks to outside of the area, wagons included. Big lorries using sat navs are brought through the village of lower and upper cumberworth and carr hill road. There is far too much traffic today without creating more especially when the local school is very near the main A635. In addition the works will cause noise and air pollution in the surrounding areas including the school. Cumberworth is a family orientated community and the works themselves will bring no great benefit to the area only disruption. If this is a sheffield based company stay over in your own area there must be plenty of areas you can demolish over there. We have enough quarrying going on in cumberworth as it is with our local company PMW and they are looking an eyesore already. If the entrance to this new quarry is via the tip road then there will be queues created for those attending the tip as well as the new lorries at 120 lorries per day SO NO TO THE NEW QUARRY. Its bad enough that our green and pleasant land (green belt at that) is being taken over by housing construction companies with out some out-of-town quarry company mulling in too.
