I have seen some planning objection comments and amazed that some people does not value education for the sake of minor parking trouble. There are several schools, within walking distance, have far more parking problems. However, I value the importance of education within the community and togetherness, which is what this education centre has been spreading for the past decade and therefore I strongly suggest that council should overlook minor parking trouble for the major benefit of the whole community, specially students. After all, 'Education is key to success'. I am sure the reason of expansion is aimed to accommodate more students and we definitely need to secure our communities future by providing solid education platform. Thanks and regards....
