Please can you tell me what will happen to the surrounding grave stones.? The ones I'm more concerned about are the ones in the remembrance garden at the back of the church. ashes are placed there so I'd like to know how this will effect his grave stone. We visit regular so we have somewhere to go to to be close to him. Also if this is a listed building how can this be changed and what happens to the common wealth graves. Surely they can't be moved. I think this is a very selfish thing to do and can't understand why anybody would want to renovate a church into dwellings. When it's people's families that are buried around and near the church. the church wall at the rear side. And I'd hate to think this would be dug up or even me having to move it after all these years
