I have re installed both the flat terrace roof along with the pitched garage roof on number 13 the Hill. Both roofs were existing and had been for of number years. Both roofs are situated below the upstairs windows so the view is not as extent as the windows above. After spending several day's working on both roofs I can confirm that you can not see through any neighbouring velux windows. With reference to comments made regarding overlooking the next door neighbours bedroom windows, I can confirm that I could only see the landing/stairs from the roof when I was working within close proximity . I would also hi light that I understand that has recently had a velux window installed in a listed building without planning consent, so why would no 13 which is not listed need planning. I feel no 13 roof terrace does not encroach into any neighbouring private area/space and only enhances the property.
